COLONIAL THEATRE.

Tom Moore Appearing in The Secre Room, Great Mystery Drama.

In this superb two-reel-feature today at the Colonial, genial Tom Moore plays the part of a doctor who, because of his study of the occult, has become mentally unbalanced, and in this condition has bargained with a derelict for his body to use for medical purposes, to cure his child, an imbecile, who is kept in the secret room. The derelict, a young man disappointed in a love affair, turns out to be the flance of the doctor's niece, which causes a turn in the tide of affairs and brings about a sensational climax. Other fine films for today are His Soul Mate, Lubin; The Slightly Worn Gown, Vitagraph; The Sightly Worn Gown, Vitagraph; The Gang and the New Member, Blograph. Coming Monday is the powerful story of life at a fashionable boarding school for girls, entitled The Arrival of Perpetua, a five-reel feature, headed by Miss Vivian Martin, who made such a pleasing impression at the Colonial theatre in The Wishing made such a pleasing impression at the Colonial theatre in The Wishing Feature Photoplays.

The bill announced for the Davis theatre for the first three days of next week is four of the best vaudeville acts that could be got, and no expense has been spared to make this a banner vaudeville week at the Davis. Then there is the La Reane Trio, a screaming funny comedy acrobatic singing and dancing skit. The third act is Chiyco, a young Japanese performer, who has not an equal in his line of work, and the fourth act is Pascar and Marie, a singing act the like of which has never been heard in this city. Altogether the four acts will make a combination that will be something worth while seeing.
